Flt Sgt DAPHNE HARRIS.

Daphne 'the bun' has sadly passed away, she had a great interest in aviation, was a member of the Women's Junior Air Corps and a member of the National Air Guard. She was a real character around the airfield and will be sadly missed....

Can anyone name this elegant lady who has been missing since 1947.

There is a £2 reward outstanding for anyone who cares to provide information to the local Sherrifs Office which is situated north of the Scottish border which is on the otherside of Hadrians Wall. Proof of identity is required on collection of £2 cash reward !

PADDIES GET IT WRONG -- AGAIN AND AGAIN

These three old codgers share a drink to celebrate St Patricks's Day and they weren't clear at the end of the day when it actually was because they started early two weeks early in fact ! One is English, one Scottish and the other is Irish, so there lies their dilemma - total confusion !

The 'World High Jump Record' is about to be performed somewhere in the south of France ..!

FEMININE COMPLAINTS.

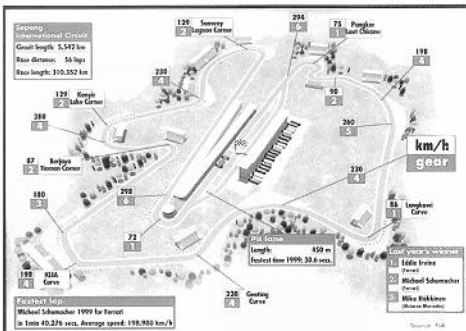

The Bugle can only apologise for not featuring women in this tabloid, but we do have sound reason as you will see from the attached pictures - copies of these images are available at £4 each A4 size.

VISIONS OF LOVLINESS

These images have been selected from our huge photographic album kept in our archive files. We have thousands of images, further complaints of non stories about women could result in more publications of further images, the choice is yours. We can do men as well !
MALAYSIAN GRAND PRIX-

Following the Australian 'TuckerBox' pre-race lunch a very tasty 'Chicken Satay' for the Malaysian Grand Prix was enjoyed by all the TV spectators, seen here glued the box with stacks of booze and delicious food provided by 'Pilots Pals' TV recreational centre for the ardent fans of F1...!

EASTER SUNDAY EGGS

Steve Speed on the last catch during a dramatic finish to the egg throwing competition during Easter Sunday. The finish broke all previous records, 21 meters, both Speeds (Mr & Mrs) said this would not change their lives and hoped the press would not egg other members on to try and break their jointly held record. Catching these eggs is delicate art.

AUSTRALIAN.GOV.ORG

In an Email from the Australian government they said it is acceptable to break the odd Emu egg in such a benevolent competition.

PETER WEBB - Eldest son of the late Bill Webb passed away on the 25th of March. Peter had a dream of a 'world water speed record' and designed and built a unique scale model which he named 'White Knight' He tested this model on Keston Ponds. He also wrote a book based on scientology about a pilot and his experiences. No doubt this book was influenced by his connection with aviation over many years and his mother (Edith) who was a great believer in scientology. Our condolences go to his younger surviving brother Graham ..
