NEW HANGAR PLANS FOR BIGGIN HILL

Loyal beer swilling pilots were shocked to learn of these latest proposals for the airfield which is being eroded away from under their very feet with grand pipe dreams with no outlook for the future of the aviation community and those who dream of becoming a pilot whether it be for pleasure, or career flying. At the end of the day we must have somewhere to relax and impress others with our aviation skills - although this proposed plan shows excellent parking facilities which is one thing that is needed on special occasions that are held at the Pilots Pals Bar on a regular basis so all is not doom and gloom as first perceived....The directors of bar were inconsolable last night and refused to comment on the future of the club as such.

We can report that the above article looks like it may have fallen on stoney ground due to lack of any forethought as to getting actual finance for the proposed hotel !

Pat Van de Merwe our Selth Efreekan Bar person has fled to Wales following the revelation of these latest airfield dreams of development which will only serve to alienate those very people that enjoy flying and socialising in our small bar. We wish Pat good luck in Wales. It has been rumoured that she is going to run a bar down a coal mine.

Humour - We deal in humorous jokes. please submit to the editor

"Joe darling hand me the hairdryer"

PILOT'S POLE DANCERS

A chromium plated steel pole is to be bolted to the corner of the bar and the ceiling at the Pilots Pen Club. Experienced pole dancers will perform on Friday nights only. One of the dancers is seen here showing Andy and Larry some 35mm colour slides of her scantily clad outfits and action shots of her previous performances.

SOUTH EAST ASIA

Our man abroad reports of more tragedy in Asia caused by the Festival of Srongkran (Buddhist New year). Over a 4 day period, 351 people were killed and 8769 were seriously injured on the roads as the result of this Festival. 86% were motorcyclists - They certainly know how to celebrate in Thailand. Signed: Ko Samui Jack

Exclusive News

We are able to disclose the identity of two of the forthcoming Pole Dancers, seen here discussing their performance routine whilst ignoring customers pleas for another drink. Their stage names are Dixie and Pixie Their dance routines are electrifying with strobe lighting and ultra - violate light to enhance their scanty costumes which help to accentuate their erotic dance routine and their beautiful figures.

SAN MARINO GRAND PRIX

24th April 2005 - An excellent day at the Pilots Pen Club Entertainment Centre - Italian food was provided by the Catering Services which was enjoyed by all the GP supporters. The race was won by the Spanish driver Alonso beating Schumacher to the finish by a whisker.

Gordon Jones was the outright winner of the sweepstake. Not a gambling man he replied, as he walked off with his winnings.

THE RED ARROWS DISPLAY

The Bugle is able to report a special display by the famous Red Arrows which is to be performed at Biggin Hill on Thursday 12th May 2005 at 1030am. This is a private event open to members of the Pilots Pen Club - Bacon Rolls will be available for those attending this auspicious occasion.

OLD SOLDIERS 7th MAY

Come along to the bar to celebrate this wonderful day out starting at 1430 with a B-B-Q from 1600 until 2000 hrs. Aerobic Display at 1830. Coolie and Rick will provide live music from 2000—close, and possible Pole Dancing Display although not confirmed at print date.

SPANISH GRAND PRIX.

Another spectacular TV presentation with Paella as the main dish of the day—please come along and sample the exquisite food that is provided for your palate.

BAD LANGUAGE //"<$+

It has to be reported that unnecessary bad language is becoming more evident around the bar and difficult to understand why every second word should be a swear word - furthermore it is harder to understand the actual conversation and its content. We all like a good laugh, but please keep it down !

CAR CRIME IN BIGGIN

Petty car crime is on the increase around the Biggin Hill area which is not only disturbing, but downright irritating to the victims. Whilst damage is often related to a broken window or jemmied door this crime is unwanted. The break in times are related to pub closing times and early hours of the morning. This tabloid is convinced these jobs are local and if any of our readers are aware of these attempted thefts please inform us of time/date/place. We will endeavour to piece together a pattern. These petty criminals could be living next door to you and butter wouldn't melt in their mouths when they are face to face with you. Please help us, jot it down and hand it in to the editor who can be found most days around the bar !
