

Hi everyone

I find it necessary to, yet again, send out a special mid-month Newsletter...

ADAM MYERS

Unfortunately I have to advise you all of the recent death of another old Biggin Hill'ite, Adam Myers, the details of whose illness I reported on in the November Newsletter just a couple of weeks ago.

Adam, who was just 53, passed away quietly on Monday afternoon having been admitted to a hospice only last week, following a very short stay in Hospital. He was diagnosed with his condition only in late October.

In the 70's and 80's, Adam was very heavily involved in Biggin Hill life and was well known to many of us oldies in those days. He had a variety of jobs on the airport in those early years, including aircraft cleaning and working for Biggin Hill Flying Club. Adam leaves a wife, Christine, who he married in 1997. He has continued to support Biggin Hill throughout his life and continued to be a member of the Biggin Hill Airport Social Club to the end.

His funeral will be held at Beckenham Crematorium in Elmers End, on Friday 25th November at 9:45am. I do hope that some of his airport friends will be able to show their support to a lovely gentle man. He will be very missed by us all.

GEORGE DOBSON

Our great friend, George Dobson, very much a permanent fixture at Biggin Hill, and to be seen daily in the Terminal reading his daily paper, was admitted to hospital just under two weeks ago. He has been feeling unwell for some time and when his condition deteriorated a close friend, Corina, decided to call an ambulance to get him properly checked. After a number of tests, it is clear that George is very seriously ill, and it seems he may be transferred to another facility shortly. (I visited him last week and can report that, in spite of the seriousness of his condition, he is in good spirits and still the same 'old George') I am sure I am speaking for all of us when I say we wish him well - we will all be thinking of him...
